Hanoi Aide's Trip Home Significant

By STEPHENS BROENING
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Le Duc Tho's two previous trips home from the Paris peace talks coincided with a delicate phase in negotiations between North Vietnam and the United States. Now the chief adviser to Hanoi's peace conference delegation is on his way home again.

Tho left Monday with stops en route scheduled in Moscow and Peking, the principal contributors to North Vietnam's war effort. U.S. delegation sources feel Tho might have been recalled for a policy review. They are discouraging speculation that he is taking back a new U.S. proposal for top-level consideration.

On the surface there are no symptoms of progress in the peace talks. But the circumstances of Tho's last two trips home give support to speculation that his trial, be due to some hidden, significant developments.

After arriving in Paris last June 3 to supervise the North Vietnamese delegation, Tho returned to Hanoi on June 29. This was at the start of a summer-long lull in major Viet Cong and North Vietnamese ground action in South Vietnam and of a period of intensive secret diplomacy in Paris.

During Tho's absence, a ranking North Vietnamese official confided to the French Foreign Ministry that the lull was Hanoi's response to the American demand for reciprocity in negotiations for a total halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Throughout July, Washington debated whether the lull in fighting was really initiated by Hanoi and whether it was sufficient reason to halt all bombing above the 17th Parallel. But the Johnson administration decided against halting the bombing then, and Tho came back to Paris Aug. 13.

His next departure on Oct. 14 was in the midst of terminal bargaining over a bombing halt, when proposals were being exchanged between the Americans and the North Vietnamese in private meetings outside the conference hall.

Early in October, Ambassador Xuan Thuy hinted that Hanoi would agree to enlarged talks with Saigon and the Viet Cong participating even if U.S. reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam continued. This was a significant modification of Thuy's stand in the preceding five months of bilateral talks.

While Tho was home reporting to President Ho Chi Minh, the North Vietnamese signalled their acceptance of the U.S. bombing halt package. On Oct. 31 President Johnson announced the cessation of bombing.

Tho returned to Paris Nov. 23, and the first session of the four-party talks was held Jan. 18, for his drinking in the past.

Miller said he opposed the bill because all evidence indicated it would increase consumption which in turn would increase highway accidents.

"Honest to Pete, that's my concern," Miller said. "If I really thought this wouldn't increase consumption, I'd vote with it."

Rep. W. H. "Bill" Thompson said the increased consumption theory "just doesn't make sense."

He said a person could buy a quart of whiskey for about $9 but to consume 32 ounces in a cocktail lounge would cost about $32.

"A man who can drink a fifth of liquor is never going to get drunk in a bar — there's too much water to consume," Thompson said.

Thompson said he would support a bill to completely dry up the state if he thought such a measure could be enforced.

But, he added, "You cannot legislate morals into people."

The amendment to HB 113, the administration measure, was presented by Rep. Herbert Rule III of Little Rock, one of the sponsors of the bill.

Rule said the amendment would make legal a practice that had gone on for years — the serving of drinks in private and country clubs in dry counties.

Rep. Kirby Meacham of Monroe said he was "sick and tired of a dry county having any special favors."

Rep. Wayne Courtney of Forrest City echoed those sentiments, saying, "If they (drys) want to drink, let them move to wet counties."

The vote on the amendment was 51-38 with Speaker Hayes McClellan casting the deciding vote.

Arkansas Holds 3 in Florida Death

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — St. Francis and Crittenden County officers Sunday arrested three Arkansas men wanted in Florida on murder charges.

The three were Robert Nesbitt, 21, of Earle, George Jones, 18, of Shearerville and Robert Fox, 17, of Earle.

Officers said the three waived extradition. They are charged in connection with the slaying of George Boyd Jr., 21, of Palm Beach, Fla., whose body was found floating in a canal near Palm Beach.

New Jersey Renews Fire on N. Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The battleship New Jersey returned to the Vietnam war after a month off the firing line and smashed 64 enemy bunkers south of Da Nang, military spokesmen reported today.

For four hours Monday, the 56,000-ton battlewagon hurled 1,900-pound shells at North Vietnamese fortifications which an air spotter said "have been impervious to previous strikes."

The New Jersey's bombardment was in support of South Korean marines and killed at least five enemy soldiers, a spokesman reported.

The battleship had been in Japan for routine maintenance and replenishment of her supplies.

The U.S. Command also announced another American helicopter was shot down and destroyed near Pleiku, in the Central Highlands, but there were no casualties. It was the 2,356th U.S. helicopter lost during the war.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces stepped up their ground war during the night with attacks on three provincial capitals, two allied bases, a pacification team and a government infantry battalion. The North Vietnamese also fired on a small U.S. observation plane over the southern half of the Demilitarized Zone but missed it.

South Vietnamese troops were hard hit in two of the attacks, suffering 24 dead and 53 wounded while accounting for only 14 known enemy dead. The rest of the attacks caused only a handful of American and South Vietnamese wounded and light damage.

In the Mekong Delta, 102 miles southwest of Saigon, Viet Cong soldiers ripped into a South Vietnamese infantry battalion with withering machine-gun and small arms fire. After the action, 12 South Vietnamese soldiers were dead, 35 were wounded, and only seven enemy bodies were counted. The South Vietnamese soldiers may have been ambushed in the canal-laced delta, but no other details were available.

Another heavy assault came before dawn when enemy forces pumped 50 to 100 mortar rounds into Phu Bon, a provincial capital in the Central Highlands, and then stormed the town's military headquarters, firing bazooka rockets and small arms.

Again 12 South Vietnamese soldiers and at least seven of the enemy were killed, and the wounded included 18 government troops and five or six civilians.

An officer in the town said only two enemy soldiers were able to break through the barbed wire perimeter surrounding the camp and both were killed in the 50-minute fight.

The sprawling Da Nang air base and a U.S. and South Vietnamese army base 57 miles northwest of Saigon also were shelled.

merce and Industry Association reported that absenteeism at commercial establishments ran at 73 per cent.

As the cleanup operation got into high gear, the Massachusetts Department of Public Works asked the assistance of the National Guard to remove an estimated 2,500 abandoned cars on state highways.

Most of the 1,000 cars that stalled on the three-mile-long Tappan Zee Bridge at Tarrytown, N.Y., were removed during the day but the six-lane span remained closed to traffic because of clogged access roads.

Mayor John V. Lindsay made a helicopter tour of New York and then called on commuters to leave their cars at home if they tried to make it in today. However, the outlook for commuter train service was at best intermittent.

A threat to the city's cleanup was lifted when Lindsay soothed the ruffled feelings of the sanitation union leader who had charged the city refused to hire his men on overtime at the height of the storm.

New York figured to spend $350,000 on snow removal. Boston officials estimated they would spend $400,000 before the streets were made passable.

Of the deaths attributed to the storm, nearly half were the result of heart attacks while shoveling snow. In the Boston suburban area 27 persons, mostly youngsters, lost fingers in rotary snow machine mishaps.

The weather bureau said the immediate outlook for most of the affected area was for no more snow although temperatures were not expected to get above freezing.

"If only the city was like this all the time," said one man.

Then, one by one and two by two, the machines—the buses, the taxis, the trucks, the cars—began to come out into the streets again and take over the city from the people and force them back upon the sidewalks and grind the soft sweet white snow into gray grime and slush.

Russo Sure He Heard Shaw Plot

By BILL CRIDER
Associated Press Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A key witness at Clay Shaw's trial testified he was befuddled at times—but remained "100 per cent sure" he heard Shaw plotting to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

Perry Raymond Russo, 27, insisted that his expressions of grave doubt made to various people before trial started were due to enormous mental "res-sures generated by the case."

"I would like to be 1,000 per cent sure," said Russo. "But 1,000 per cent is something you can never really reach. Does that make sense?"

"No," said defense lawyer F. Irwin Dymond.

"Then why keep pursuing it?" snapped Asst. Dist. Atty. James L. Alcock.

But Dymond concentrated to the end on whether Russo had, as he once put it, lost the ability to distinguish "fact from fantasy."

Russo, ending nearly 10 hours on the stand, stepped down Tuesday.

In his long cross examination, Dymond bore down hard on statements Russo made to police Sgt. Edward O'Donnell during the detector test.

Before the test, Russo had told the preliminary hearing he was at a party at Ferrie's apartment in September of 1963 and overheard the plotters.

"Do you deny that when you were asked if Clay Shaw was at the party, you replied, 'Do you want to know the truth? I don't know if he was there or not?'" asked Dymond.

A—With some explanation, yes. At that time so many people were pressing . . . it was getting hard for me to tell if he was there or if he wasn't.

Q—But you did tell him it was hard to tell if Shaw was there or not?

A—After explaining, yes.

Q—Did you tell Sgt. O'Donnell that if you had to give a yes or no answer as to whether Shaw was at the party, you would have to say no?

A—Probably not in those exact words but in essence, yes.

Earlier Dymond asked Russo if he had told Layton Martens, one of four men Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison has charged with perjury during the assassination probe, that the Shaw case "is the most blown up and confused thing I have ever seen."

"Yes," said Russo, wiping his brow.

gal actions and the Nixon-Finch positions.

Like Nixon, Mitchell is said to oppose to busing pupils across school district boundaries on grounds that such programs are not workable.

And like Finch, Mitchell favors negotiations with local officials before more severe remedies are imposed through court action or by termination of federal funds.

But after all alternatives have been exhausted, both cabinet officials believe, as Finch said, "the law in the end must be enforced."

In Houston, the government said a 12-year-old court suit produced four desegregation plans, including the current freedom of choice program, but racial segregation has not been ended.

The lower chamber also passed 13 minor appropriation measures and a bill to change the name of Henderson State College at Arkadelphia to Henderson State University.

Tells Plan to Reorganize State Agencies

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller revealed Tuesday a proposal to extensively reorganize state agencies and their functions.

Although in the form of a bill ready for submission to the legislature, Rockefeller indicated he had not decided whether to pursue the matter in the current legislative session.

Instead, the governor asked agency heads and legislators to give him their opinion of the proposal by next Wednesday to help him decide soon whether to pursue the matter now or later.

Rockefeller pointed out that the state government of Colorado recently underwent a similar reorganization and showed that the changes could be accomplished "with little or no dislocation during the transition period."

The reorganization is based on a report by Dr. Max Milam, an associate professor of political science at the University of Arkansas. Milam, attorneys and U of A law students drafted the proposal to embody the recommendations of his report.

The state Administration Department, under the plan, would be changed to the Department of Administration with its chief officer titled director.

Under the expanded department, it would be:

The proposal would change the State Administration Department to the Department of Administration and its chief officer would have the title of director.

Under the expanded department would be:

— A budgeting and accounting division which would take in the state treasurer's office division responsibility for processing redeemed warrants.

— An administrative services division under the expanded department would take in the microfilm sections of the offices of the state treasurer and the secretary of state.

— A purchasing division of the department would take in the contract letting functions of the secretary of state's office and the department director would replace the secretary of state as the ex-office secretary on the State Printing Specifications Review Committee.

— A building and grounds division which would receive the authority granted for maintenance of the Capitol and its grounds to existing boards, Departments, commissions, agencies and officers.

The proposed bill would create a Department of Planning and Development which would have:

— An information services division that would encompass the information program sponsored by the Office of Economic Opportunity in the Arkansas Planning Commission, the research program of the Research and Reports Division of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, and the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

Heard No Order to Destroy Data

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — An intelligence technician has testified that he did not hear the intelligence officer of the USS Pueblo issue any orders while the ship was under attack. The technician said he himself gave the order to start destroying classified equipment.

Chief Communications Technician James F. Kell, 32, of Honolulu said further that the "burning of classified documents ceased when he received word from someone to stop burning," according to a Navy summary of unclassified testimony released Tuesday.

"He couldn't remember who gave the word . . ." the Navy said.

In response to queries from the court, Kell stated his opinion of the Pueblo's intelligence officer, Lt. Stephen Harris. Kell said Harris was "an average officer—nothing outstanding and nothing bad."

The court of inquiry investigating the Pueblo incident stopped taking testimony today to determine whether to shift its focus from the intelligence ship's capture to the imprisonment of its crew.

A Navy spokesman said the five admirals on the court wanted to be sure any questions about the capture had been answered before taking testimony on the 11 months the 82 surviving crewmen spent in prison in North Korea.

of shotguns and fierce dogs in the black neighborhoods. "When the looting starts, the shooting starts," Headley was quoted as saying.

— Failure of the white business community to live up to promises of summer jobs for black youths, and the loss of jobs by blacks to Cuban refugees.

— Attempts by civic officials to woo the Democratic convention away from Chicago to Miami with assurances that the disorders anticipated for Chicago could not happen, or could be easily controlled, in the Florida tourist resort.

"Some black leaders," the report said, "had come to feel that this wide advertisement of their purported passivity, for the purpose of promoting local hotel and tourist facilities, was demeaning to the local black community" and "falsely implied that the black community was content with its economic and social circumstances."

While sharply critical of the Miami Police Department and Chief Headley, the Miami investigators came nowhere near the severe criticism of the police that characterized the controversial Walker report on the Chicago riots during the Democratic convention.

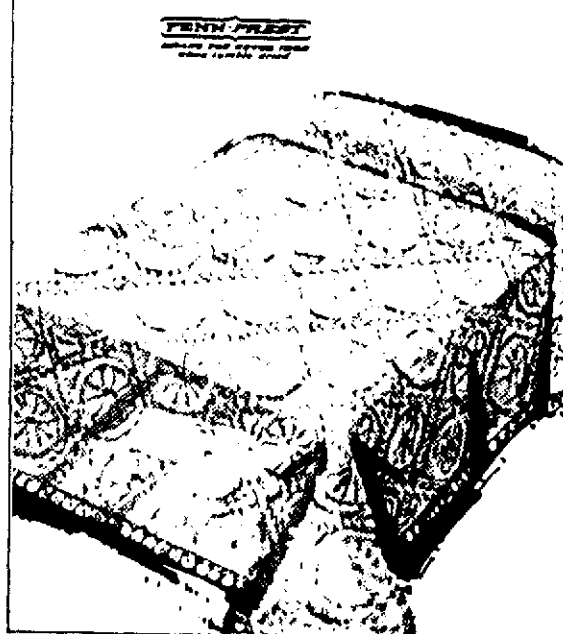

Attorney Daniel Walker analyzed the bloody fighting in Chicago as a police riot.

Also, the Chicago violence was directly connected to the Democratic convention and was basically not racially related.

Annexation, City Tax Levy Granted

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A controversial annexation bill and a measure granting cities the power to levy a one per cent sales tax received approval on reconsideration in the Arkansas Senate Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the House overrode Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's veto of a bill that requires convicts to serve one-third of their term before being eligible for parole.

The lower chamber also passed a Senate bill that would allow the Association of Arkansas Counties, an organization of county officials, to utilize money from the state turnback to counties if appropriated by the quorum counts.

The annexation bill by Rep. John I. Purdie of Little Rock was defeated last Friday but won approval on reconsideration Tuesday 21-10.

The bill makes annexation of an area contingent on majority approval of voters in a city as well as in the area to be annexed.

Opponents of the measure contend that it would stifle the orderly growth of cities.

The measure to allow cities of the first and second class to levy a sales tax if approved by voters in the city also passed 21-10 on reconsideration.

The House action on the parole bill by Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff completed the first overriding of a Rockefeller veto in this session.

Rep. G. W. "Buddy" Turner of Pine Bluff, who led the floor fight in the lower chamber, said overriding a veto was "serious business," but he added, "A great many people are incensed by the manner in which parolés are handled now."

Turner said some persons sentenced to prison were arriving in the state.

Staying Out of All Trouble Is a Major Goal But Not Easy

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Since we live in an age of anxiety, staying out of trouble is one of our major goals.

This isn't easy. All a man has to do is open his mouth and say the wrong thing at the wrong time and he winds up with a face full of knuckles, or worse. Only the wary warrior survives in a woe-filled world.

Here, for example, are a few invitations that generally lead to disaster:

"Why pay the retail price for it? If you want me to, I'll arrange to get it for you whole-sale."

"How can anybody who is grown up get lost in a few acres of woods? This looks like the road we came in on. Shall we try it?"

"Here, let me hold the match. You bend down and look in the tank."

"Go ahead, kid. Hit me in the stomach with all your might. I can take it."

"If you don't like it you can

Convention Rioting Blamed on Hard Line Policy of Police

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Police ineptness and a hard-line policy against Negroes were major contributors to the riot that erupted in Miami during the 1968 Republican National Convention, a report to the National Commission on Violence says.

Four persons died in the looting, burning, and gunfire that broke out while the GOP met to candidate in neighboring Miami Beach the first week in August.

But the commission's task force on Miami, headed by prominent Florida attorneys, Louis J. Hector and Paul L. E. Helliwell, also reported that there was little connection between the convention and the cause of the riots.

Instead, the report said, the violence came about from conditions typical in other big urban areas also struck by racial disorders—"The usual pattern of unemployment and under-employment, poor schools, early school termination, high rent for poor housing, poor health conditions and high incidence of crime."

And these conditions were aggravated by a number of factors, the investigators reported:

—Miami's late police Chief Walter Headley's celebrated "get-tough" news conference of December 1967, resulting in double police patrols and displays

Careful Presents Don't Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — When someone gives him a present, Oldo's Stephen Young is careful it doesn't compromise his position as a United States senator.

"I've got a $5 limit on all gifts," says Young.

Someone recently gave him a case of costly scotch whiskies and the venerable Democrat returned all but one bottle.

"I appraised it," he said, "at $4.99."

Under the Rockefeller plan, 25 per cent of surcharge revenues would be diverted to state and local governments in 1970 to provide an estimated $2.75 billion.

He proposed that an additional 25 per cent be added each year until, by 1973, all receipts from the surcharge—an estimated $14 billion—would be distributed to states and local communities.

"A serious imbalance has been developing within the federal system," Rockefeller said.

"State and local expenditures to meet human needs have been rising much more rapidly than federal expenditures for domestic purposes."

However, the federal government collects two-thirds of all the taxes whereas state and local governments collect only one-third, and this is inadequate to meet the people's needs."

The governor also called for creation of a national contributory health insurance system and an overhaul in the method of calculating and granting federal aid to the states and localities.

Shultz said colleges and universities would need $12.8 million in new funds in the next fiscal year and $5.2 million more in the following fiscal year just to continue what they are doing now.

Shultz said the administration also wants 123 new beds at the University of Arkansas Medical Center and money to effect the merger of the U of A and Little Rock University.

C. Robert Sarver, corrections commissioner, appealed to the committee to give the prison authority to issue $1.2 million in revenue bonds to build a maximum security unit at Cummins Prison Farm and to further mechanize the farming operation at Cummins.

Shultz said the committee is studying his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Ingram, Jr. of Hope. He will return to duty the latter part of this week.

Early Call of Council No Emergency

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York unveiled at the White House today a plan to continue the "temporary" 10 per cent federal income tax surcharge and use the proceeds to help finance state and local programs, particularly for education.

In a presentation made before President Nixon's Urban Affairs Council, Rockefeller also suggested that 25 per cent of future growth in other federal revenues be earmarked to underwrite new nationwide welfare standards which, he urged, be paid in full by the federal government.

"By this sharing of fiscal strength within the federal system," he said in a statement, "we cannot only further education and provide welfare benefits more efficiently, but we can also help preserve the vitality and effectiveness of state and local government, within the federal system."

Nixon presided at the opening of the Urban Council meeting but turned over the chair to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew because a National Security Council session began 15 minutes later.

Under the Rockefeller plan, 25 per cent of surcharge revenues would be diverted to state and local governments in 1970 to provide an estimated $2.75 billion.

He proposed that an additional 25 per cent be added each year until, by 1973, all receipts from the surcharge—an estimated $14 billion—would be distributed to states and local communities.

"A serious imbalance has been developing within the federal system," Rockefeller said.

"State and local expenditures to meet human needs have been rising much more rapidly than federal expenditures for domestic purposes."

However, the federal government collects two-thirds of all the taxes whereas state and local governments collect only one-third, and this is inadequate to meet the people's needs."

The governor also called for creation of a national contributory health insurance system and an overhaul in the method of calculating and granting federal aid to the states and localities.

Shultz said colleges and universities would need $12.8 million in new funds in the next fiscal year and $5.2 million more in the following fiscal year just to continue what they are doing now.

Shultz said the administration also wants 123 new beds at the University of Arkansas Medical Center and money to effect the merger of the U of A and Little Rock University.

Israel Shoots Down Syrian Airplane

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel reported its air force shot down a MIG21 warplane from Syria today and chased another one home after they flew over Israeli territory.

It was the first air battle between Syria and Israel in more than a year. No Israeli losses were reported.

An Israeli spokesman said the two Soviet-built jets crossed the cease-fire over the Golan Heights, which Israel seized from Syria during the 1967 war.

He said one of the MIG pilots bailed out and his plane was seen to crash in Syrian territory.

In Jerusalem, meanwhile, Premier Levi Eshkol's government won an overwhelming vote of confidence Tuesday night from the Knesset, Israel's Parliament, but the premier still was threatened with the defection of one party in his coalition Cabinet.

A no-confidence motion put forward by the nationalist Free Center party was defeated 74-5, but Haim Landau said he and other leaders of the rightist Gahal party would meet to decide whether to withdraw from the government. The withdrawal would not rob the government of its majority, but it would threaten the widespread unity that has been one of the government's biggest supports in the weeks that its policy of retaliation has been under fire from the United States.

The threat to the government resulted from Eshkol's interview with Newsweek magazine in which he said Israel is determined to keep the Syrian Golan Heights and Old Jerusalem but would give up the West Bank territories seized from Jordan if it could station troops along the Jordan River to ensure Israel's security. He also indicated Israel would relinquish the Sinai Desert, taken from Egypt, although it would keep troops at the southeast corner of the peninsula overlooking the Gulf of Aquaba, the southern water route to Israel.

At the United Nations, U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost said he expected to begin bilateral talks on the Middle East with the Soviet, British and French U.N. delegates "very shortly."

The two-party talks will cover "whatever subjects the four will agree on to provide a basis for four-power meetings," he said.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Administration witnesses told the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee today that proposed tax increases to expand and improve state services are justified.

Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, and Robert Shultz, a Little Rock lawyer, spoke for increased funds for public schools and higher education.

Elementary and secondary schools need increases totaling $18 million in the next fiscal year to increase minimum foundation aid, which is mostly teacher salaries, and other programs, Rozzell said.

This would make the public schools budget $122 million in the next fiscal year and it should go up another $10.5 million in the 1970-71 fiscal year, he said.

Shultz said colleges and universities would need $12.8 million in new funds in the next fiscal year and $5.2 million more in the following fiscal year just to continue what they are doing now.

Nixon Administration Has No Plans to Go Slow on Desegregation

By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Four recent legal actions by the Justice Department appears to indicate the Nixon administration has no intention of going slow on seeking desegregation of public schools.

The latest action came Tuesday when the Justice Department asked a federal court to void the freedom of choice desegregation plan set up by the Houston, Tex., Independent School District.

The government charged the current plan had been used to perpetuate racially separate schools for most of the 250,000 students in the Houston system, sixth largest in the nation.

Coming on the heels of suits Monday against three Louisiana school districts, the action appeared to erase earlier doubts on administration school civil See NIXON (on page two)

Terrorist Bus Attacks Thwarted

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Alert U.S. troops thwarted two attempts by Viet Cong terrorists to blow up busloads of Americans near Saigon's Tan Nhut Air Base today.

As many as 50 officers on the staff of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams could have been killed or wounded in one of the attacks, but no Americans were hurt. The only casualty was a Vietnamese child who was slightly injured.

A few hours before, American forces intercepted about 100 enemy soldiers 23 miles northeast of Saigon and smashed several big rockets on launching pads, apparently aimed at the U.S. Army headquarters at Long Binh.

The enemy activity around Saigon increased speculation that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese might be trying to maneuver into position for another Tet offensive. But U.S. intelligence officers said major enemy forces are not in position yet to launch a significant attack on Saigon although there might be small-scale assaults and terrorist attacks.

Two of the shuttle buses that haul American military personnel around Saigon were targets of the terrorists today. The two attempts took place at almost the same spot near the big air base and within 30 minutes of each other.

The first attempt was made about 6:30 a.m., when two Vietnamese on a motorcycle hooked about five pounds of TNT or plastic explosive attached to a string to the screen window of a bus carrying 50 officers on Gen. Abrams' staff to their offices at Tan Son Nhut.

The second attempt was made about 7:30 a.m. when a Viet Cong motorcycle hooked about five pounds of TNT or plastic explosive attached to a string to the screen window of a bus carrying 50 officers on Gen. Abrams' staff to their offices at Tan Son Nhut.

Sirhan May Change Plea, Reports Say

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rejoice circulated today that Sirhan Bishara Sirhan might change his innocent plea to guilty in the gunshot assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Such a change, if it occurred, would result from either an understanding or a firm belief that a life term in prison—instead of death—would be the maximum penalty, the Los Angeles Times reported.

The only likely obstacle would be Sirhan's own refusal to change his plea, the Times said. Sirhan, a slender 24-year-old from Jordan, was described as fearful a change of plea would rob him of the opportunity to publicly air reasons for the assassination.

The Times said Sirhan's defense attorneys huddled with the defendant, his mother, and brother Tuesday to discuss the possible guilty plea.

Speculation also rose Monday night when Evelle J. Younger, Los Angeles County district attorney, said without elaboration in a television interview that the Sirhan trial could take "three months or three days."

Court sources said a change in plea represented one way to drastically reduce the length of a trial that has already consumed nearly six weeks just in making preliminary motions and selecting a jury.

For either a conviction or a plea of guilty to murder in the first degree, the death penalty or life imprisonment is mandatory under California state law.

Defense attorneys were said to pin their hopes for having Sirhan avoid the gas chamber on the argument that his mental or emotional capacity was so diminished as to rule out the degree of premeditation needed to warrant death.

Neither defense attorneys nor the prosecution would comment. Opening statements by defense and prosecution, and possible first testimony, are scheduled to start Thursday, after a recess for Lincoln's birthday.

The eight-man, four-woman jury and their six alternates must check in by tonight to the hotel where they will be quartered until a verdict.

"Sequestration won't be the easiest thing in the world for all of you," Judge Herbert V. Walker told them Tuesday in outlining their instructions.

Precipitation may move into Arkansas from the west and southwest by Thursday night or Friday.

An upper level low pressure trough, which was located today over the west coast, is expected to move eastward bringing with it increased cloudiness and possible precipitation.

Temperatures Tuesday were relatively mild but colder temperatures were expected today. Slightly warmer readings are forecast for Thursday.

Harrison was the coolest spot in the state Tuesday with a reading of 57 while Texarkana was the warmest at 68.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

HOW TO COOL HOT CAMPUS RIOTS?

Dear Helen: I have a suggestion for putting down riots on college campuses.

First of all, college administrators should make it definite they will not tolerate insurrection, and rioters will be forcefully tossed, never to return. In other words, they will be expelled, and fast. This does not include peaceful argument and dissent. I agree college students have a right to be heard, and many of their criticisms are valid. But no one has a right to violence. It accomplishes nothing and denies education to the great majority who do not riot.

Next, these expelled students who want an education should have a college planned especially for them, where they can expound their views among their own kind. Maybe they'd develop the best kind of university, who knows, for these students are the activists, the doers, the changers. Given a place where they can go ahead as fast as they want — and bring their reforms to fruition, they might even evolve a model for higher education as it should be.

How about it: A College for Dissenters! Then the 90 percent of peaceful students could get back to earning their degrees. —SAN FRANCISCO STATE GRAD

Dear Grad: Good idea, but I doubt that those "dissenters" would sit still for being shunted off to a "College for Dissenters." They'd howl "segregation," "discrimination," etc., for their goal is to change existing order, not live in an environment where the fight is already won. Otherwise they'd attend the far-left colleges sprinkled around the country.

As for college administrations getting tough: They should and they are, and it's high time I'm all for needed change, but not overthrow by violence. —H.

Dear Helen: I read that cigarette consumption was down in 1968 by a small amount, and then I heard on television that the percentage of smokers had dropped two points. Is this among teenagers or adults, or both? —REFORMED

Dear Reformed: Two recent surveys show smoking among teenagers has dropped considerably more than two percent. A national, though somewhat limited poll made for the United States Public Health Service in early 1968 estimates that less than one percent of boys and girls in the age - 12 and 13 group are presently smokers; and that 25 percent of 17-year-old boys smoke cigarettes now, as compared with 35 percent a decade ago. The corresponding figures for girls of the same age are 15 percent currently as compared with 25 percent 10 years ago.

However, these figures are sharply contested by W. Herbert Grigson who heads up the Non-Smokers Clubs in Chester County, Penna. His intensive anti-smoking campaign in 22 Pennsylvania schools has resulted in an 8.7 percent decrease among young smokers over a three-year period, but he states that the number of 17-year-old cigarette smokers still remains 39 percent (boys) and 25 percent (girls). His figures are borne out by regional surveys in California and Oregon.

While cigarettes are becoming less popular with some students, an estimated 4,500 new 11- and 12-year-olds take to them every day of the year. So says Dr. Ashbel C. Williams, of the American Cancer Society.

And before you breathe a sigh of relief that teen smoking is on the down trend, consider this: Teen use of liquor and illegal drugs has reached an all time high. It's time we started anti-drugs and non-drinking clubs too. Right? —H.

Dear Helen: Our daughter wants to live in a co-ed dormitory at college. Isn't this conducive to immorality? —MRS. T.J.

Dear Mrs. J: Co-ed college dorms are well supervised. If you've raised your daughter well, you needn't worry. —H.

At 85, Still Talks About White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alice Roosevelt Longworth, minus the ever-present cigarette but in full possession of her famous wit, turned 85 today still talking about the White House as if it were hers.

"At the moment, I seem to have become a loathsome combination of Marie Dressler and Phyllis Diller," says the only daughter of Theodore Roosevelt's first marriage in reference to a reputation for theatrics as well as acid humor.

"And," she adds, "That's the last thing I would really care to be."

Mrs. Longworth, who has known every president since Benjamin Harrison—1888-1892—will celebrate tonight in her usual manner.

Close friends and relatives will gather for dinner in the fading mansion near Washington's Dupont Circle where she has lived for 44 years among paintings, photographs, books and dusty animal skins that recall her father's Big Game days.

Wiry and energetic, Mrs. Roosevelt remains a sought-after guest and was one of the earliest invited to dinner after the Nixon's moved into the White House last month.

She holds court in the afternoon at her regular teas, spends time browsing small stores and book shops, and "goes out when I have enough invitations to enjoy."

Her conversation turns often to the White House where she lived from 1901 until her marriage there in 1906 and still knows it like any of the books she reads till sunup every day.

The Red Room? "I remember the gloom of the Red Room."

The Green Room? "Ugh... The ugly, ugly Green Room."

An oval room upstairs is that "very pretty yellow oval room, then not so pretty (in 1909)."

Mrs. Longworth, whose husband Nicholas died in 1931 while speaker of the House, says she likes her days to begin "at 11 a.m. after reading all night."

Her servants come at 11, she says, "but I say 'go away' and then they come back at half past one."

Mrs. Longworth still retains much of the impishness that made her a living legend in Washington.

Impishness that prompted her to keep as a pet until recently a garter snake she called "Emma Spinach."

And impishness that also prompted one of her more famous remarks:

"If you haven't got anything nice to say about anybody, come, sit here by me."

But she says she has long since given up the smoking that she took up at age 18, astonishing a capital society that frowned on women who had the habit.

"How horrryfyng!" she commented recently while looking at a picture of herself with a cigarette holder. But at the same time she recalled giving her distant cousin Franklin, 32nd president of the United States, the first of a series of holders that popped up in many of his pictures.

Asked who of all the presidents she found the most interesting, Mrs. Longworth said:

The Honeycutt's six children are: Mrs. J.R. Kennedy of Dallas, Mrs. Bill Reaves of Ft. Worth, Mrs. Troy Garrett of Prescott, Mrs. Herbert Reed of Emmet, J.T. Honeycutt and Ray Honeycutt, both of Hope. There are 10 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

"I think the three we've had now. They're all so different, beginning with Kennedy, Johnson and then Nixon."

Winterize Your Skin

Right now is the time when you begin to feel that little nip in the air. It's time to start winterizing your skin for the extra protection it needs. The combination of wind and cold has a very drying effect, especially on delicate skin, and the best way to combat this problem is with pure gentle baby oil. A few drops massaged into the skin of exposed areas in the morning shields you from skin-drying winds all day.

FATHER-DAUGHTER VALENTINE BOX SUPPER

A Father-Daughter Valentine Box Supper was held by Girl Scouts in Hope at the Coliseum in Fair Park on Monday night, February 10 with over 200 in attendance. Two Brownie troops, two Junior troops, and one Cadette troop took part in the evening of fun.

Tables covered in white were decorated in red and white cupids, hearts, and troop numbers. Each scout had a box supper prepared for two and packed in gaily decorated containers. First and second prizes were awarded in each troop for the prettiest boxes. Judges were Royce Weisenberger and Mrs. Haskell Jones. Judge Weisenberger also presented the welcome at the beginning of the evening.

After supper, members of each troop had a variety of entertainment, and in many of the events the fathers of the scouts took an active part. In appreciation for many forms of assistance given to the scouts, they presented a special lapel pin to Calvin Cooper. Mrs. Cooper is Melonvine Neighborhood Chariman and has been helped on many occasions by him.

Hijack Victims May Return on Same Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba has agreed to let hijacked United States airliners return with their passengers if the government, the airline companies and the pilot agree it is safe and accept the responsibility.

The State Department announced Havana's new policy Tuesday, a day after an Eastern Air Lines DC8 was allowed to leave Jose Marti airport with its 109 passengers only hours after a gunman forced an unscheduled landing on a flight from San Juan.

"The core of the problem" — how to stop the hijackings — "so far has not been resolved," press officer Robert J. McCloskey said. But he said the new policy is a welcome help to unwillingly detoured air travelers.

Today the Cuban radio said, in a broadcast monitored at Miami, the Venezuelan jet would be held until fuel is delivered by that government. The radio said the plane was being held temporarily in retaliation for Venezuela's temporary seizure last November of the Cuban fishing boat, Alacran.

In the past, the Cubans have permitted United States crews to fly their planes home from Havana, but only after passengers were transferred about 90 miles away to Veradero. From there they were flown to Miami on propeller-driven planes, usually the next day.

Cuban officials contended takeoff from Jose Marti's 10,000-foot runway were unsafe for loaded jetliners, but pilots disputed this almost unanimously.

The Cubans, McCloskey said, now are willing to consider on a case-by-case basis the direct return of hijacked planes with passengers aboard provided the U.S. government, the airlines and the pilot of each plane will assume responsibility for the safety of each flight.

Says Sales Tax Exemptions Unjustified

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Some Arkansas sales and use tax exemptions "are totally unjustified," the president of the Arkansas State AFL-CIO said Monday.

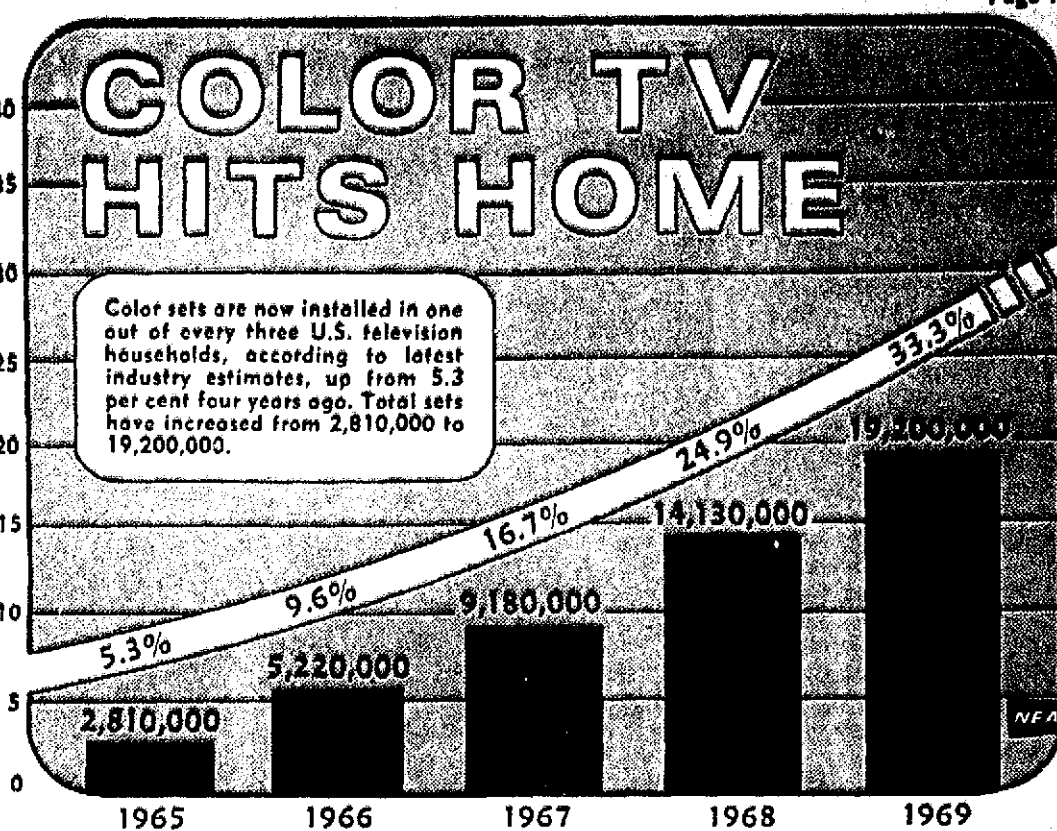

"The unjustified exemptions are clearly loopholes made to accommodate powerful special interest groups and, in all instances, are an unneeded subsidy by state government of healthy and prosperous industry," according to J. Bill Becker.

The labor leader listed 10 fields of sales tax exemptions he said were "unjustifiable" and 11 items he said were unjustifiably exempted from the state use tax.

He said his organization felt that numerous other items were justifiably exempted from sales and use taxes. Most of these items were minor.

Sales tax exemptions should be revoked, Becker said, on cigarettes, newspapers, gasoline or motor fuel on which gasoline or motor fuel taxes had been paid to the state, advertising space in newspapers, periodicals and bill boards;

Others were cotton and its immediate by-products, raw farm products sold directly to the consumer, livestock and poultry, dairy products of producers owning not more than five cows, second-hand or used property on which the tax has once been paid and where such property was traded in as part of the purchase price of another property and unprocessed crude oil.

"Unjustifiable exemptions" from the use tax listed by Becker were unprocessed crude oil, machinery and equipment used directly and indirectly in producing and manufacturing, public transportation (including railroads, airlines), public communication companies and public utilities.

Also, Becker said, "We see no reason for permitting a two per cent rebate or discount for those who collect and remit the sales tax on time. Based on sales tax collections, the state loses over $1.5 million by this unnecessary discount. No other taxpayers receive such a rebate when they file their returns."

Becker said, "Loopholes should be plugged before any new, major tax increases are contemplated that might tend to make the Arkansas tax structure even more regressive than in its present form."

Plaster of paris was given that name because extensive deposits of gypsum, from which it is made, are found in the Paris Basin of France.

Treasury May Curb Action for Two Banks

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation being drafted by the Treasury Department would curb action recently approved by the department for two banks that formerly employed three top Nixon administration officials.

The approval permits the two banks—Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago and The Chase Manhattan Bank of New York—to set up one-bank holding companies.

This allows them to do business in fields otherwise legally closed to banks.

Approval for Chase Manhattan's plan came Jan. 30. Approval for Continental Illinois was announced Feb. 7, one day before President Nixon announced he was asking the Treasury Department to consider legislation to limit one-bank holding companies.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy resigned as chairman of the board of Continental Illinois to become secretary of the treasury. Robert P. Mayo, Nixon's budget director was vice president of Continental Illinois. And Paul A. Volcker was a vice president of Chase Manhattan before assuming his present job as undersecretary of the treasury for monetary affairs.

A Treasury Department spokesman said Monday legislation would be proposed this month to restrict the non-banking activities of one-bank holding companies.

Also on Monday, the House Banking and Currency Committee issued a report warning that one-bank holding companies could "radically change the entire economic structure of the United States by the creation of giant conglomerate cartels centered around large banking institutions."

The committee's chairman, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., is also drafting legislation covering one-bank holding companies.

To have any effect on the approval of the Continental Illinois and Chase Manhattan plans, the bill passed by Congress

Local National Guard Inspected

would have to be retroactive. A one-bank holding company is, in effect, an identity-changing procedure that allows a bank to slip around the general rule prohibiting it from engaging in non-banking fields.

The usual practice is for a bank's management to create a holding company and transfer ownership of the bank to this company. The same management then is in control of both. The holding company then can do business in such non-financial areas as real estate, mining, manufacturing and insurance.

Patman's committee report pointed out that in 1955, there were 117 one-bank holding companies existing or proposed with $11.6 billion in deposits. In 1965 there were 550 such holding companies controlling $15.1 billion.

The great increase in holding companies, with the relatively small increase in the amount of money the companies controlled, suggested that most of the new companies were small operations.

But by the end of 1968, counting existing and proposed one-bank holding companies, the number increased almost seven-fold to 793 with deposits soaring to $108.2 billion. Under the Bank Holding Act of 1956, a company holding 25 per cent interest in two or more banks was barred from control of any non-banking operation.

But companies holding a single bank were left unregulated and free to set up holding companies to move into non-banking areas.

The act also allowed conglomerates to take over single banks. One Treasury Department source estimated that there have been 20 acquisitions of banks of modest size by conglomerates.

Ana, he added, it is felt that the existence of such diversified corporations with the capability to compete in banking fields will force the one-bank companies farther and farther into non-banking fields.

It is the latter trend—conglomerates taking over banks—that worries Treasury officials more than banks building themselves into conglomerates, department sources said. Usually banks which create holding companies don't move too far out of banking fields.

Early Calendar

The Egyptians adopted the first calendar based on the solar year in 4246 B.C. It was a 12-month calendar, with each month containing 30 days. To make the calendar come out even with the sun, they added five days at the end of the year—six days every fourth year. These added days were not part of any months, but were used as feast days in honor of their gods.

The local National Guard Unit received their annual I G inspection on Tuesday afternoon February 11, 1969 at the local National Guard Armory. Making the inspection were Major Milton M. Hope and Master Sergeant Kuczynski of Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Several local citizens, headed by Mayor Frank Douglas and Chamber of Commerce President George Frazier, visited with these gentlemen and expressed their appreciation for the local Guard Unit. Sergeant Claud Byrd arranged the visit and interview.

Cable TV Boosts Area Economy

A family whose TV set is connected to a community antenna system cable pays only about five dollars a month for the service, but that is the beginning of a continuing boost given a city's economy by cable TV.

At the other end of the story, local operating expenses add up to many thousands of dollars annually. Much of this is in the form of salaries to employees, rentals and taxes, advertising bought from local media, payments to local firms for supplies, and utilities.

"And," says David P. Mooney, vice-president of Hope Community TV, Hope receives income through taxes we pay on the cable system's physical plant."

Mr. Mooney pointed out that system's physical to come into the area.

The net result of the direct and indirect increased business is a spiraling economy spurred by the establishment of a cable TV system.

With its neck stretched to the limit, a crane is about five feet tall.

Constitutional Amendments Introduced

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Several proposed constitutional amendments were among the items introduced Tuesday in the Arkansas Legislature.

A proposed amendment introduced by Sen. Robert Harvey would provide that members of the General Assembly be elected from single member districts.

Harvey also introduced a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish chancery courts and transfer their duties to circuit courts.

The amendment to set up single member districts would allow the state Board of Apportionment to divide the state into as many districts as there are members of each House.

Each district would be so nearly equal in population that the district with the greatest number of residents would not exceed the least population by more than 15 per cent.

The boundaries of judicial districts would be established by the state Supreme Court, under Harvey's other proposed constitutional amendment. Chancery courts have jurisdiction in equity cases.

In the House, a resolution urging the Constitutional Convention to consider annual legislative sessions and reasonable salary increases for members of the legislature was introduced by Rep. Cal Ledbetter.

A resolution requesting Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to appear before the House and "explain the expenditure of the $41 million surplus the state had on June 30, 1967" was introduced by Rep. Jimmie Don McKisack of Star City.

Other measures introduced in the House Tuesday included: — A bill by Rep. Jerry Bookout to provide an additional $17.50 income tax credit for persons who are blind and another to allow a $100 credit for persons caring for a blind child.

— A bill by Rep. Leon Holsted to create a life insurance guaranty fund for domestic life and disability insurance companies.

— A bill by Rep. James Linder to repeal the meat products inspection act.

— A bill by Rep. Gayle Windsor to allow state agencies to provide group life, accident and health and hospitalization insurance for their employees.

— A bill by Rep. Herbert C. Rule III to require the commissioner of revenue to issue duplicate motor vehicle license plates to be displayed on the front of the vehicle.

— A bill by Rep. Nowotny to provide for the delivery of unclaimed and abandoned property to the state.

Employment Remains Strong

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today a strong employment situation in January with an unemployment rate of 3.3 per cent, seasonally adjusted, matching December's 15-year low.

For January, nonfarm payroll employment, which usually declines sharply after December, fell much less than expected.

Asked if this meant a warming up in the economy, Harold Goldstein, chief of the Office of Employment Manpower Statistics in the Labor Department said, "Well, it's just as warm as it has been for several months."

Unemployment rates for adult men and all full time workers rose in January while the rate for teenagers are not as the Labor Department figures showed. The number of employed persons fell less than expected, and the number of unemployed rose about in line with seasonal expectations.

Baseball Closer to Pension Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball owners and players are moving toward a settlement of the pension dispute, according to John Caherin, the owners' representative in the negotiations.

After meeting for about an hour Tuesday with Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, Caherin said:

"It was a continuation of our discussions. The last few meetings we've had have produced some real progress.

"We're working as quickly as possible toward a solution. We could have an agreement tomorrow; we could have one next week. We're both working hard."

The players, insisting that television revenue be included in the new pension plan, have voted to boycott spring training camps until an agreement is reached. They contend they've always shared in the television proceeds.

The owners have said there should be no relation between the revenue and their pension contribution.

The first spring training camps are due to open Friday, but Caherin said he wasn't trying for a settlement by any particular day.

"That has not entered our minds," he said.

Miller was not available for comment.

Bowie Kuhn, baseball's newly elected commissioner, told a Boston baseball writer's luncheon that he is sure the dispute will be settled before the start of spring training.

Kuhn said he is "even more confident than I was a week ago" that the threatened player strike would not develop.

Benton Cone Leads Hogs Over Aggies

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) Red-hot Arkansas led by Benton Cone outgained Texas Christian for a 63-47 victory in Southwest Conference basketball action here Tuesday night.

Arkansas hit 73 per cent from the field in the second half to win their third league game against five defeats and to even their season mark at 9-9. TCU dropped to 1-6 and 8-10.

A malfunctioning score board clock that occasionally ticked off several seconds at a time contributed to a low halftime score of 23-22 in Arkansas' favor. The error was discovered with 2:53 left in the half and officials used a stop watch for the rest of the game.

James Eldridge scored 12 points for Arkansas and Ricky Tanneberger hit for 11 and grabbed 10 rebounds. TCU's Tom Swift hit for 12 and James Cash added 11.

Tech's Brown Almost Has Scoring Title

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Paul Brown of Arkansas Tech has all but clinched the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference scoring title with three regular season games remaining.

Brown, who finished third in the scoring race last year, is averaging 24.1 points a game. Harding's Bob McKeel is second with a 21.3 average followed by Henderson's Danny Davis with a 20.6 average.

George Frazier of Harding and Dewayne Nash of Hendrix are tied for the rebounding lead, with an average of 11.9 each.

Porks Sign Top Louisiana Quarterback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Only four of Texas' prime blue chip schoolboy football stars remained unsigned today by a small army of college recruiters.

Halfbacks Joe Wylie of Henderson, Dan Steakley of Colorado City, Dennis Howell of Port Arthur and quarterback Joe Wylie of Henderson were undecided where to attend school.

Tuesday was the first day under Southwest Conference rules that prospects could sign pre-enrollment applications.

The University of Arkansas landed probably the most publicized athlete in the nation when the Razorbacks signed Joe Ferguson, a 6-foot-2, 170-pound Shreveport Woodlawn quarterback.

"He's the most proven passing quarterback in high school history," said Arkansas coach Frank Broyles. "I've been coaching 23 years and scouting and trying to find quarterbacks like this and he tops them all."

Ferguson passed for 86 touchdowns in his three-year high school career.

The Texas Aggies mined the greatest load of "blue chips"—the top-rated 20 players in the state.

A&M signed quarterback Brad Dusek of Temple, quarterback Lex James of Houston Sam Houston tackle Butch Camps of Houston Bellaire, center Buster Calloway of Ennis, linebacker Dennis Carruth of Dallas Thomas Jefferson and linebacker Bruce Best of Houston Smiley.

Southern Methodist went out of the state to get three of its latest signees—running back Rayer Clark of Hugo, Okla., linebacker Lee Wayne Wood of Ardmore, Okla., and split end David Rogers of Magnolia, Ariz.

Arkansas railed deep into Texas for some of its latest prospects, including Jim Benton, an Amarillo Tascosa halfback; Steve Glover, a lineman from Palestine, Larry Kilgore a tackle from Amarillo, and John Wheat, a guard from Temple.

The University of Houston made its presence felt with the signing of 27 players, including blue chip lineman Steve George of Plano and Don Howard of Nederland.

Texas signed highly sought all-state tackle Bruce Gaw of Dallas Bryan Adams, quarterback Alan Lowry of Irving and linebacker Bill Rutherford of Irving.

Oklahoma picked off blue chipper Eddie Foster of Monahans.

Texas Christian nailed two on the blue chip list—ends Lane Bowen of Brownwood and Rusty Ward of Arlington.

Rice paced all schools with a total of 38 signed on the first day.

When Ron Peret hit two free throws with seven seconds left in the overtime session for a 70-69 victory over Texas. It was Texas A&M's fourth one-point victory in the league this season.

Southern Methodist climbed into a tie for second with Baylor by beating Texas Tech 84-65.

Michigan State knocked off Notre Dame with surprising ease, 71-59.

In other games, Iowa whipped Northwestern 84-80 in overtime, Wisconsin stopped Minnesota 69-63, Missouri defeated Nebraska 79-60, Arkansas topped Texas 63-47 and Drake whipped North Texas State 91-67.

Also, it was Western Michigan 85, Marshall 74; Virginia Tech 68, Virginia 64; Old Dominion 80, William & Mary 65; Boston College 70, Rhode Island 62; NYU 87, Lehigh 70, and Holy Cross 97, Massachusetts 68 behind Ed Studut's 36 points.

Boston Raids Jets, Acquire George Sauer

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Patriots once again have raided the ranks of the world champion New York Jets to fill one of the key positions on their American Football League staff.

The Patriots announced Tuesday night that George Sauer Sr., who has been the Jets' director of player personnel the last six years, has accepted the position of general manager with the Boston club.

Sauer replaces Mike Holovak, who was fired from his dual post as head coach and general manager a month ago.

Two weeks ago the Patriots hired Clive Rush, an assistant coach with the Jets, as their new head coach.

Hope Girls Beaten in Tournament

By RALPH ROUNTON Star SportsWriter

When anyone is a victim of circumstance, the result can be right darn hard to take. The Nashville Scrapperettes avoided these emotions by outscoring the Hope Lady Cats 30-29 in the District 7-A Tournament last night at Gurdon.

It took a sliding last-second field goal by forward Connie Echols for Nashville to pull it off, even as Hope fans were celebrating the victory that wasn't.

For the Lady Cats the season wound up 9-10, while Nashville at 16-6 moves into the quarter-finals tomorrow night against Gurdon.

But when the breaks counted, in the second half, the Lady Cats found the cupboard bare. It'll be a gross injustice, though, if at least one Hope guard, probably Jenny Callicott, isn't selected to the All-District team.

Two quick layups by Jo McKamie and Mary Beth Millican sent Hope out front 4-0 in 90 seconds, before Kay McClure scored the first of her mere four field goals of the night.

Hope's main chance was to eliminate McClure as a scoring threat from the outside, and the locals did such a good job that McClure, having scored as many as 51 points in one game, only hit two outside baskets.

At 2:26 of the first quarter, referee Grady Cathey stopped the game and eventually Nashville had to borrow Gurdon's jerseys. This was because the officials were having problems telling Hope's red and Nashville's bright orange. So the Scrapperettes got gold.

Inside shots and that impenetrable defense had Hope leading 10-6 at the quarter, and the lead grew in a second period where each score was a major event.

Although missing free throws right and left, Hope still got enough points from McKamie and Dee Singleton to build up a 17-10 advantage, which a Nashville basket cut to 17-12. Seconds later a technical foul was assessed Coach Dennis Horn of Nashville, and a Hope basket scored before the confusion by Belinda East was disallowed somehow.

So at halftime Hope led 17-12, with only one charity shot to show for two quarters of play. As it turned out, Jo McKamie was the only Lady Cat.

In the first half, the crowd saw few fouls. In the second half, they got enough to suffice for a whole game.

Still the Lady Cats continued the assault, and protected a 22-17 margin with 3:02 left in the third segment when the dam broke. Nashville scored very few points, but Hope didn't get any for five minutes and fifteen seconds.

Four free shots by McClure in the midst of the confusion cut the Lady Cats' lead to 22-21 with the finale to go, but Hope was in excellent shape as Scrapperette guard Janice Woodruff had fouled out.

That scoring drought finally ended with 4:47 left in the game, as Dee Singleton curled in a five-footer which at the time gave Hope a 24-23 edge. Two minutes later Jo McKamie had made the free throw to give the Lady Cats a good three-point lead, but with shades of yesterday a Hope player was called for being in the foul lane and the point was nullified.

One lousy point, and that was

Porks Sign Two Negro Players

By HARRY KING Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Grover Richardson has seen his son play enough football to know why he was one of the first two Negroes signed to football scholarships by the University of Arkansas.

"My father told me 'You're not going up there because you're black, you're going up there because you earned the right as an athlete,'" said Jon Richardson.

"I asked Coach (Frank) Broyles about it," Richardson said. "He said, 'We're getting you because of your ability as a football player.'"

Richardson, an outstanding running back at Little Rock Horace Mann, and Carl Lowe of North Little Rock High School signed letters of intent Tuesday, the first Negro youngsters to accept football scholarships at Arkansas.

SMU broke the color barrier in the Southwest Conference when it signed Jerry Levis. Other schools in the SWC also have Negro football players.

Arkansas' switch from the I formation to the pro-type offense influenced Richardson and Lowe, both of whom were highly-sought by other schools.

"The pro type is what I ran in junior and senior high," Richardson said. "It's real mobile and you can do a lot of things."

Said Lowe, a 9.6 sprinter: "It's right down by line."

Richardson, a 5-foot-11, 185 pounder, scored 17 touchdowns last year and was named to the Associated Press' All-State team. He said he had been told he would probably be used as a running back.

Lowe said Arkansas had him pegged as a split receiver prospect. Broyles and his staff thought enough of Lowe to sign him although the 5-foot-10, 165-pounder, played in only two games last year because of a leg injury.

Richardson said his parents wanted him to stay in Arkansas, but that the decision was his.

"I decided I wanted to stay in the state to play football and get an education," he said. "I just decided I could do best at the university."

"It doesn't bother me to be one of the first Negroes," said Lowe. "I have something to prove to make other Negroes want to go up there."

Both were enthused when told that Arkansas had signed Joe Ferguson of Shreveport, La., considered one of the best high school quarterbacks in the nation.

"That's real good," said Richardson. "He's super."

HERBERT BURNS

A PORTRAIT OF LINCOLN

He was the first president to be photographed extensively. Yet it has been said that while there are many pictures of him, there is no portrait. It is true that in none of the fading prints of that time is the face, although so very familiar, exactly the man later generations have come to know. But it is not the whole truth. The first photo was taken in 1846 when he was 37, a prairie lawyer just elected to Congress. The last was taken April 10, 1865, a war-burdened president four days before his death. In the years between there were many. They show the developing character and purpose and, finally, the deeply etched lines of tragedy. Taken together, they are a portrait of Lincoln.

McCarthyites Not Really Part of Party

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A top 1968 campaign adviser to Eugene McCarthy says the National Democratic Committee is beaming a message at McCarthyites that says: "You're not really part of our party."

That message, says Curtis B. Gans, comes through in the recent selection by Democratic National Chairman Fred Harris of two commissions to reform party convention policies before 1972.

Gans, who was McCarthy's director of operations and is on the steering committee of the New Democratic Coalition, told an interviewer Monday there was a "significant degree of resentment" among McCarthy backers about the makeup of the two commissions.

He said one group, headed by Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and charged with reforming the delegate selection process, has no McCarthy people on it.

The other committee, which will rewrite convention rules under the chairmanship of Michigan Congressman James G. O'Hara, has a "clear liberal majority" with three McCarthyites, Gans said. But its tasks are less urgent and more long range.

"They may be trying to postpone meaningful reform until 1976," Gans said.

He added that the McGovern group appears to have been put together "by a process of mutual veto" by Hubert H. Humphrey, Maine Sen. Edmund Muskie and Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts—all 1972 presidential possibilities.

"There are an awful lot of McCarthy people around," Gans said, but the Democratic party appears to be "saying you're not really part of our party."

Harris could not be reached for comment and McGovern was speechmaking in the Midwest.

Meanwhile, in a separate interview, a leader of the move to reform convention delegate selection pointed up the urgency of McGovern's job.

Mrs. Ann Wexler of Connecticut, who led the reform fight in the 1968 convention's rules committee, said action is needed within six weeks in some states to change state laws before selection procedures start in 1970.

Mrs. Wexler also said that many of those named to the 27-member McGovern Commission "lack knowledge of the situation."

"My greatest concern," she said, "is that this commission is not aware of the fact that its job is really crucial now."

Mrs. Wexler said 16 states start delegate selection processes in 1970—two years before the next convention—and that changes in state law will be required in half of these to assure the popular participation directed by the 1968 convention.

Annexation, Convention Rioting City Tax Levy Granted Policy of Police

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A controversial annexation bill and a measure granting cities the power to levy a one per cent sales tax received approval on reconsideration in the Arkansas Senate Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the House overrode Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's veto of a bill that requires convicts to serve one-third of their term before being eligible for parole.

The lower chamber also passed a Senate bill that would allow the Association of Arkansas Counties, an organization of county officials, to utilize money from the state turnback to counties if appropriated by the quorum courts.

The annexation bill by Rep. John I. Purdie of Little Rock was defeated last Friday but won approval on reconsideration Tuesday 21-10.

The bill makes annexation of an area contingent on majority approval of voters in a city as well as in the area to be annexed.

Opponents of the measure contend that it would stifle the orderly growth of cities.

The measure to allow cities of the first and second class to levy a sales tax if approved by voters in the city also passed 21-10 on reconsideration.

The House action on the parole bill by Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff completed the first overriding of a Rockefeller veto in this session.

Rep. G. W. "Buddy" Turner of Pine Bluff, who led the floor fight in the lower chamber, said overriding a veto was "serious business," but he added, "A great many people are licensed by the manner in which paroles are handled now."

Turner said some persons sentenced to prison were arriving as early as late this week.

The confusion, Rockefeller said, stems in part from a failure to communicate to the public the difference between a tax loophole and a legitimate tax exemption designed to help a business or industry.

Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton, the principal proponent of a legislative move to increase revenue by removing exemptions rather than Rockefeller's route of increasing taxes, admits that some exemptions might be legitimate.

Rockefeller maintains that eliminating all exemptions, legitimate or not, would not raise enough money to meet the needs of the state. He has asked for new taxes totaling $195 million in the next two years.

So far the legislature has declined to act on any of the administration tax proposals.

Suffering From Fatigue

JAKARTA (AP) — President Suharto was resting at home today suffering from fatigue after complaining of severe headaches, palace officials said.

A palace spokesman said "the president needs several days rest and has cancelled all his engagements for today and tomorrow. There is no question of his condition being serious." He gave no other details.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police ineptness and a hard-line policy against Negroes were major contributors to the riot that erupted in Miami during the 1968 Republican National Convention, a report to the National Commission on Violence says.

Four persons died in the looting, burning, and gunfire that broke out while the GOP met to candidate in neighboring Miami Beach the first week in August.

But the commission's task force on Miami, headed by prominent Florida attorneys, Louis J. Hector and Paul L. E. Heilwell, also reported that there was little connection between the convention and the cause of the riots.

Instead, the report said, the violence came about from conditions typical in other big urban areas also struck by racial disorders. "The usual pattern of unemployment and underemployment, poor schools, early school termination, high rent for poor housing, poor health conditions and high incidence of crime."

And these conditions were aggravated by a number of factors, the investigators reported:

— Miami's late police Chief Walter Headley's celebrated "get-tough" news conference of December 1967, resulting in double police patrols and displays

Staying Out of All Trouble Is a Major Goal But Not Easy

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Since we live in an age of anxiety, staying out of trouble is one of our major goals.

This isn't easy.

All a man has to do is open his mouth and say the wrong thing at the wrong time and he winds up with a face full of knuckles, or worse. Only the wary warrior survives in a woe-filled world.

Here, for example, are a few invitations that generally lead to disaster:

"Why pay the retail price for it? If you want me to, I'll arrange to get it for you wholesale."

"How can anybody who is grown up get lost in a few acres of woods? This looks like the road we came in on. Shall we try it?"

"Here, let me hold the match. You bend down and look in the tank."

"Go ahead, kid. Hit me in the stomach with all your might. I can take it."

"If you don't like it you can

Early Call of Council No Emergency

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York unveiled at the White House today a plan to continue the "temporary" 10 per cent federal income tax surcharge and use the proceeds to help finance state and local programs, particularly for education.

In a presentation made before President Nixon's Urban Affairs Council, Rockefeller also suggested that 25 per cent of future growth in other federal revenues be earmarked to underwrite new nationwide welfare standards which, he urged, be paid in full by the federal government.

"By this sharing of fiscal strength within the federal system," he said in a statement, "we cannot only further education and provide welfare benefits more efficiently, but we can also help preserve the vitality and effectiveness of state and local government, within the federal system."

Nixon presided at the opening of the Urban Council meeting but turned over the chair to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew because a National Security Council session began 15 minutes later.

Under the Rockefeller plan, 25 per cent of surcharge revenues would be diverted to state and local governments in 1970 to provide an estimated $2.75 billion.

He proposed that an additional 25 per cent be added each year until, by 1973, all receipts from the surcharge—an estimated $14 billion—would be distributed to states and local communities.

"A serious imbalance has been developing within the federal system," Rockefeller said. "State and local expenditures to meet human needs have been rising much more rapidly than federal expenditures for domestic purposes."

However, the federal government collects two-thirds of all the taxes whereas state and local governments collect only one-third, and this is inadequate to meet the people's needs.

The governor also called for creation of a national contributory health insurance system and an overhaul in the method of calculating and granting federal aid to the states and localities.

Israel Shoots Down Syrian Airplane

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel reported its air force shot down a MIG21 warplane from Syria today and chased another one home after they flew over Israeli territory.

It was the first air battle between Syria and Israel in more than a year. No Israeli losses were reported.

An Israeli spokesman said the two Soviet-built jets crossed the cease-fire over the Golan Heights, which Israel seized from Syria during the 1967 war.

He said one of the MIG pilots bailed out and his plane was seen to crash in Syrian territory.

In Jerusalem, meanwhile, Premier Levi Eshkol's government won an overwhelming vote of confidence Tuesday night from the Knesset, Israel's Parliament, but the premier still was threatened with the defection of one party in his coalition Cabinet.

A no-confidence motion put forward by the nationalist Free Center party was defeated 74-5, but Haim Landau said he and other leaders of the rightist Gahal party would meet to decide whether to withdraw from the government. The withdrawal would not rob the government of its majority, but it would threaten the widespread unity that has been one of the government's biggest supports in the weeks that its policy of retaliation has been under fire from the United States.

The threat to the government resulted from Eshkol's interview with Newsweek magazine in which he said Israel is determined to keep the Syrian Golan Heights and Old Jerusalem but would give up the West Bank territories seized from Jordan if it could station troops along the Jordan River to ensure Israel's security. He also indicated Israel would relinquish the Sinai Desert, taken from Egypt, although it would keep troops at the southeast corner of the peninsula overlooking the Gulf of Aqaba, the southern water route to Israel.

At the United Nations, U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost said he expected to begin bilateral talks on the Middle East with the Soviet, British and French U.N. delegates "very shortly."

The two-party talks will cover "whatever subjects the four will agree on to provide a basis for four-power meetings," he said.

Witnesses Say Tax Hikes Justified

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Administration witnesses told the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee today that proposed tax increases to expand and improve state services are justified.

Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, and Robert Shultz, a Little Rock lawyer, spoke for increased funds for public schools and higher education.

Elementary and secondary schools need increases totaling $18 million in the next fiscal year to increase minimum foundation aid, which is mostly teacher salaries, and other programs, Rozzell said.

This would make the public schools budget $122 million in the next fiscal year and it should go up another $10.5 million in the 1970-71 fiscal year, he said.

Shultz said colleges and universities would need $12.8 million in new funds in the next fiscal year and $5.2 million more in the following fiscal year just to continue what they are doing now.

Shultz said the administration also wants 123 new beds at the University of Arkansas Medical Center and money to effect the merger of the U of A and Little Rock University.

C. Robert Sarver, corrections commissioner, appealed to the committee to give the prison authority to issue $1.2 million in revenue bonds to build a maximum security unit at Cummins Prison Farm and to further mechanize the farming operation at Cummins.

Nixon Administration Has No Plans to Go Slow on Desegregation

By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Four recent legal actions by the Justice Department appears to indicate the Nixon administration has no intention of going slow on seeking desegregation of public schools.

The latest action came Tuesday when the Justice Department asked a federal court to void the freedom of choice desegregation plan set up by the Houston, Tex., Independent School District.

The government charged the current plan had been used to perpetuate racially separate schools for most of the 250,000 students in the Houston system, sixth largest in the nation.

Coming on the heels of suits Monday against three Louisiana school districts, the action appeared to erase earlier doubts on administration school civil

Terrorist Bus Attacks Thwarted

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Alert U.S. troops thwarted two attempts by Viet Cong terrorists to blow up busloads of Americans near Saigon's Tan Nhut Air Base today.

As many as 50 officers on the staff of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams could have been killed or wounded in one of the attacks, but no Americans were hurt. The only casualty was a Vietnamese child who was slightly injured.

A few hours before, American forces intercepted about 100 enemy soldiers 23 miles northeast of Saigon and smashed several big rockets on launching pads, apparently aimed at the U.S. Army headquarters at Long Binh.

The enemy activity around Saigon increased speculation that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese might be trying to maneuver into position for another Tet offensive. But U.S. intelligence officers said major enemy forces are not in position yet to launch a significant attack on Saigon although there might be small-scale assaults and terrorist attacks.

Two of the shuttle buses that haul American military personnel around Saigon were targets of the terrorists today. The two attempts took place at almost the same spot near the big air base and within 30 minutes of each other.

The first attempt was made about 6:30 a.m., when two Vietnamese on a motorcycle hooked about five pounds of TNT or plastic explosive attached to a string to the screen window of a bus carrying 50 officers on Gen. Abrams' staff to their offices at Tan Son Nhut.

The stage was the village police station, the audience the police and the "entertainers" were Peter A. Parke, 25, and Norine Deury, 19, both of Boston, charged Tuesday with possession of marijuana.

They Serenade Their Captors

SKANEATELES, N.Y. (AP) — The young man with the chest-long beard and flowing hair strummed a guitar while he and the girl with long hair and an iridescent dress, serenaded their captors for nearly two hours with a medley of folk songs.

The stage was the village police station, the audience the police and the "entertainers" were Peter A. Parke, 25, and Norine Deury, 19, both of Boston, charged Tuesday with possession of marijuana.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

Nicola Marionettes is coming to Hope on Monday, Feb. 17, with a bright new musical production, "Jack and the Beanstalk," sponsored by Hope Junior Auxiliary.

There will be performances at Hope High School and Hopewell auditorium at 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Admission is 25c. For further information, contact Mrs. John Graves at 777-3264.

This notice: If you are a member of the Hope High School graduating class of 1953, and wish to continue the practice of sending flowers when there is a death in the immediate family, please go by First National Bank and deposit a donation to the account of "Graduating Class of 1953." All funds are exhausted!

Sgt. Bill Ingram of San Francisco is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Ingram, Jr. of Hope. He will return to duty the latter part of this week.

Mid-term graduation requirements for 1968 Arkansas Tech senior students have been completed according to the college registrar. Tech does not hold mid-term Commencement exercises, so the graduates will be presented their diplomas in May.

Among the graduates is Richard McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McDowell of Hope. Richard majored in accounting and is now a Lieutenant in the Army stationed at Ft. Knox.

Marcelle's Beauty Salon is now in its new location on South Laurel street in the building formerly occupied by Dortha Faye's Flowers.

There will be a dance Saturday, February 15 at 8:30 p.m. at the RCI Club in McCaskill. Music will be furnished by Dale Goodner and the Country Boys. Proceeds will go to the building fund.

Attending the cub scout powwow in Texarkana Saturday were Mrs. Hollis Moses, Mrs. Harold Hartness, Mrs. Garland Rosenbaum, and Mrs. Tom Berry from Pack 62; and Mrs. Mitchell LaGrone from Pack 93.

Front and back covers of the album, "Two Virgins," show a front and rear view of Lennon and his girlfriend Yoko Ono in the nude. The covers were confiscated in two raids this year by Essex and Union county officials.

Sirhan May Change Plea, Reports Say

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Reports circulated today that Sirhan Bishara Sirhan might change his innocent plea to guilty in the gunshot assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Such a change, if it occurred, would result from either an understanding or a firm belief that a life term in prison—instead of death—would be the maximum penalty, the Los Angeles Times reported.

The only likely obstacle would be Sirhan's own refusal to change his plea, the Times said.

Sirhan, a slender 24-year-old from Jordan, was described as fearful a change of plea would rob him of the opportunity to publicly air reasons for the assassination.

The Times said Sirhan's defense attorneys huddled with the defendant, his mother, and brother Tuesday to discuss the possible guilty plea.

Speculation also rose Monday night when Evelle J. Younger, Los Angeles County district attorney, said without elaboration in a television interview that the Sirhan trial could take "three months or three days."

Court sources said a change in plea represented one way to drastically reduce the length of a trial that has already consumed nearly six weeks just in making preliminary motions and selecting a jury.

For either a conviction or a plea of guilty to murder in the first degree, the death penalty or life imprisonment is mandatory under California state law.

Defense attorneys were said to pin their hopes for having Sirhan avoid the gas chamber on the argument that his mental or emotional capacity was so diminished as to rule out the degree of premeditation needed to warrant death.

Neither defense attorneys nor the prosecution would comment.

Opening statements by defense and prosecution, and possible first testimony, are scheduled to start Thursday, after a recess for Lincoln's birthday.

The eight-man, four-woman jury and their six alternates must check in by tonight to the hotel where they will be quarantined until a verdict.

"Sequestration won't be the easiest thing in the world for all of you," Judge Herbert V. Walker told them Tuesday in outlining their instructions.

Precipitation May Move Into State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Precipitation may move into Arkansas from the west and southwest by Thursday night or Friday.

An upper level low pressure trough, which was located today over the west coast, is expected to move eastward bringing with it increased cloudiness and possible precipitation.

Temperatures Tuesday were relatively mild but colder temperatures were expected today. Slightly warmer readings are forecast for Thursday.

Harrison was the coolest spot in the state Tuesday with a reading of 57 while Texarkana was the warmest at 68.

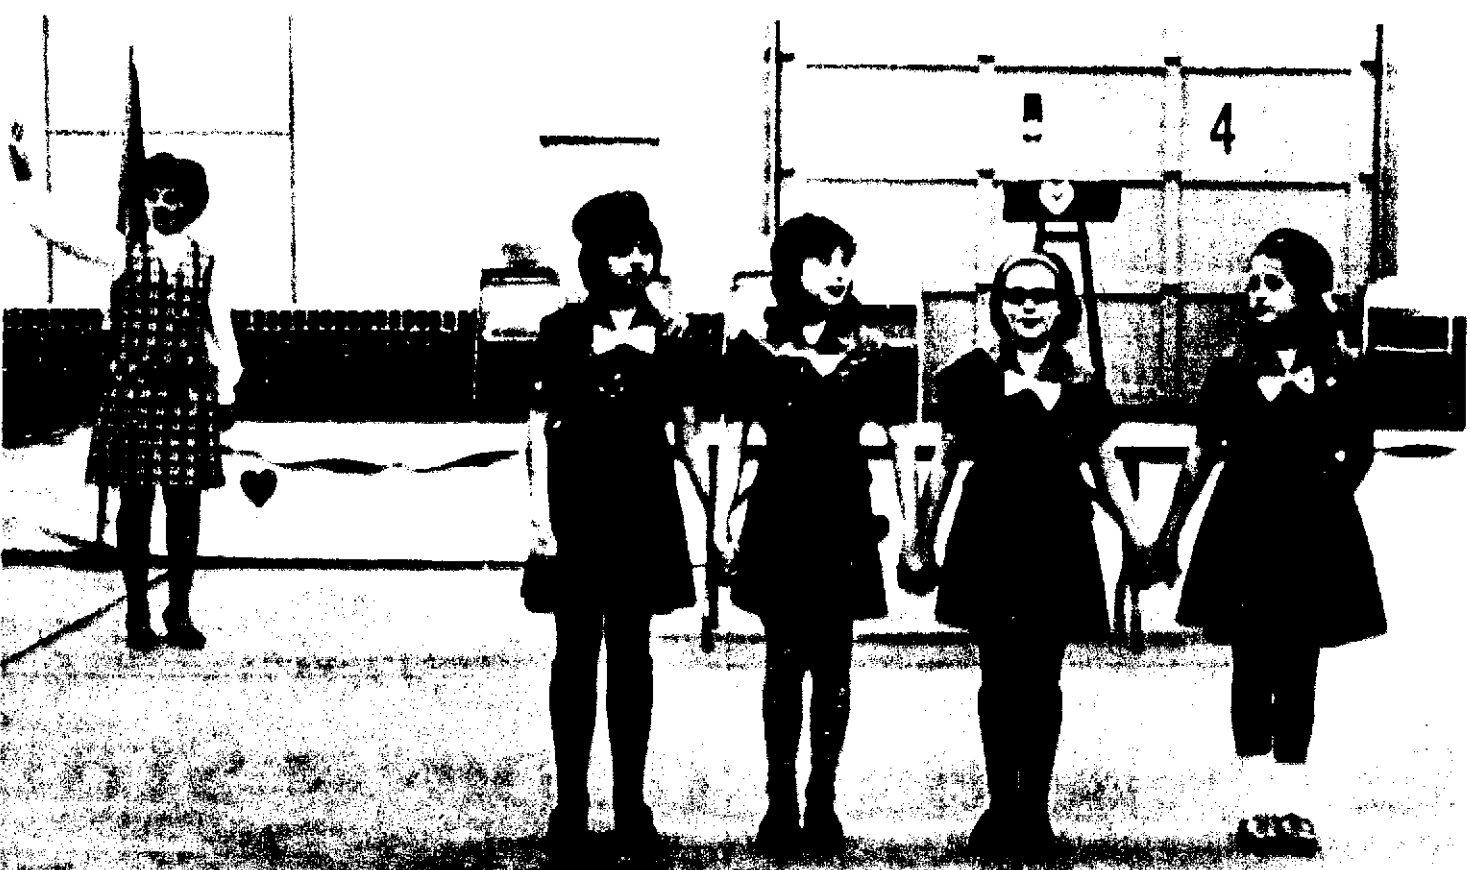

Can't Distribute Nude Beatie

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Superior Court Judge Nelson X. Mintz has ruled the album cover showing Beatie John Lennon and his girlfriend Yoko Ono in the nude is obscene and cannot be distributed.

In rendering the decision Tuesday, Judge Mintz said: "I find there is no relationship whatsoever between the recording and the cover and that, if not by intent, at least in effect, the cover is solely to promote the sale of the record to teenagers."

Front and back covers of the album, "Two Virgins," show a front and rear view of Lennon and his girlfriend Yoko Ono in the nude. The covers were confiscated in two raids this year by Essex and Union county officials.

Lady Bird Wants Stock for Self

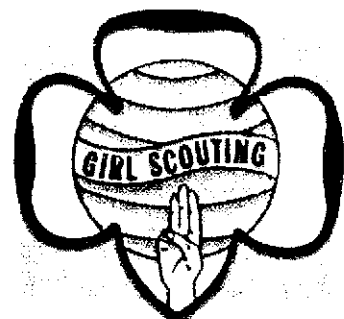

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lady Bird Johnson has applied for the transfer of 313 shares of Texas Broadcast Corp. to herself from a trust set up when her husband was President.

The stock represents 52.8 per cent of the firm which controls four broadcasting stations in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana and holds substantial interest in two others.

The Federal Communications Commission said it had no estimate of the value of the stock. Mrs. Johnson's two daughters own 15.45 per cent each of Texas Broadcasting.

Not an Italian?

There is some historical evidence to support the contention that Christopher Columbus was not of Italian extraction, and that he came from a Spanish-Jewish family which settled in Genoa. It is a fact, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, that he preferred the name of Colon to Columbus and always wrote in Spanish or Latin.

THE DOCTOR SAYS
Alcoholic Needs Support of Family

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

 Alcoholism is one of the underlying causes of traffic accidents, divorces and job failures. This has been known for generations but the problem is too complex to be solved by an easy formula. The alcohol taken by most persons passes through the body without causing addiction but the liver in some persons does not completely remove the poison from the system. This may be a hereditary defect.

 In these persons, the alcohol causes nervous tension, anxiety and thirst. These effects set up a vicious cycle and the alcoholic continues to drink. This cycle is not noticeable at first but its intensity builds up over the years.
 The true alcoholic can never be cured of his alcoholism but he can lead a normal life if he practices total abstinence.

 A letter from Birmingham, Ala., reads in part: "I have been taught that you need 19 points for a jump shift response and assumed my partner would have these points for his two-spade bid.
 When he rebid his spades I checked for aces and bid seven no-trump. Needless to say, I was very disappointed when I saw the dummy."

 "I won the club lead and played three rounds of clubs.
 East showed out and I abandoned clubs temporarily and went after hearts by leading to dummy's ace and finess-ing against East. That finesse held so I played a diamond to dummy's ace and finessed the hearts again.
 Then I cashed my last heart and club and finally played spades. By this time dummy's last four cards were the ace-king-queen-seven of spades and much to my surprise, I made the grand slam."

 "It seems that I had stumbled into some sort of a squeeze or maybe my opponents misdefended. It was pleasant chalking up the score but everyone at the table was mad at me. My partner told me I had over-bid; my opponents said I was the luckiest player they had ever seen. What do you think?"

 His partner had made a slightly unsound jump to two spades, but we aren't much for bidding grand slams unless we are really certain of success and we do think South bid too much. We also agree that he was lucky in finding the queen of hearts and then catching an opponent with the long spades and the king of diamonds.

 On the other hand we think he was kidding us

 West North East South
 Pass 1♦ Pass 1♥
 Pass 1♠ Pass 1♣
 You, South, hold:

 What do you do?
 A—Bid two spades. This bid shows just what you have—a minimum opening that includes four spades and four hearts.
 Your partner has not shown enough strength to encourage you to jump.
